BOW TIES & ARROWS

I'M NOT DONE YET

The Minnesota Department of Health has reported that 1 out of 2 Minnesotans will be diagnosed with a potentially serious form of cancer during their lifetime. While I wish there was a way for me to change these numbers, I know God has a different plan for me. He had a different plan for my late husband, Kyle, as well. Before he passed, Kyle and I developed a plan to spread faith and love to Cancer Warriors like him. By joining us tonight at this inaugural Bow Ties and Arrows Gala, you are making a huge impact on the lives of people right here in our community. I am forever grateful for your support and am inspired to continue our mission. This journey has not been easy, but God makes everything beautiful in His time.

Love ♡
Kayla

INDY's operations are mainly managed by a group of 5 women who serve on the Board of Directors. We are volunteers who are also balancing young families and full-time careers. We rely heavily on the support of the exceptional tribe of people we surround ourselves with. So, thank you to those who read our texts at 3 am when we can't stop obsessing over a new idea or problem. Thank you to our families who support our big crazy dreams of spreading this mission of faith and love. Thank you to our friends that bring us coffee and let us cry about the struggles of running a nonprofit. Thank you to each and every volunteer who shares their time, talent and treasure. We literally could not do this without you. Thank you to everyone who showed up tonight and have committed to helping Minnesotans as they enter the cancer battlefield. Thank you to God for bringing us all together. This is His plan; we are just trying our best to follow His lead. Lastly, thank you to Kyle Strand who taught us all to trust that he's not done yet and neither are we.
